

ROSWELL DAILY RECORD.

VOLUME 6.

ROSWELL, NEW MEXICO, WEDNESDAY EVENING, MARCH 13 1908

NUMBER 15

RESULTS OF PRIMARY

The Democratic city primary passed off quietly yesterday, there being only a few contests that waxed warm. The result was a very light vote polled. Judge Richardson was unanimously nominated for mayor; Walter Paylor was nominated for city clerk over W. H. Cosgrove by a vote of 362 to 197; G. R. Urton was unanimously nominated for city treasurer. These were the only three offices in which the Democracy of the whole city had a vote.

In the wards the results for councilmen, school board membership and committeemen are given in the table published in today's paper. This table gives the figures as returned by the judges of the various wards. In the First and Fourth wards, where the difference in the vote of some candidates is very small, a re-count has been asked. This will be given by the Democratic city committee to night.

SAINT PATRICK'S DAY IN THE SOCIAL WORLD.

At the Commercial Club last night was celebrated the memory of the patron saint of Ireland and the Irish, wherever they may be. On this occasion everybody was Irish, in sympathy and observance of the customs of the day, at least.

The Club was turned into a house of green. Festoons of shamrock swept from the center to the corners of the rooms and the lights were turned green with shades of emerald hue. Everywhere was to be seen the favorite color of the evening, even to many of the dresses worn by the women. Upon arrival each guest was presented with a souvenir Irish flag of green, ornamented with the lyre, made of St. Patrick's wings and ornamented with shamrocks. These flags were well distributed over the house and enhanced the decorations.

The program was started with numbers by the Norvell-Croft orchestra, which played several well known Irish songs. Then dance programs and place cards for five hundred were passed, the cards being green shamrocks ornamented and lettered with gold. The games were very interesting, the winners of each receiving favors that brought fond memories to the Irish and reminded them in some cases of the deeds of their patron saint, such as snakes, frogs, clay pipes, steln, skeletons, Mike's heads, hearts of green, shamrocks, etc. Those who won several games had a string of toys to take home with them. The prizes were awarded as follows: To Mrs. J. A. Graham, the ladies' prize, a green heart-shaped box with golden harp, filled with candy; to Miss Garrett, the ladies' consolation prize, a miniature Irish hat of green with clay pipe, filled with candy; to A. D. Garrett, the men's prize, an "old rye" jug, filled with candy; to George B. Jewett, an Irish potato, filled with candy. The orchestra played good music for the dancers, the program being made up almost entirely of new pieces.

Sandwiches, coffee and olives were served for refreshments, and fruit punch of bright green was served liberally throughout the evening by the Misses Ogle.

The patronesses of the affair were Mesdames F. C. Hunt, W. S. Kilgour, J. W. Rhea, E. W. Mitchell and O. H. Smith.

Mrs. G. A. Richardson gave a one o'clock luncheon at her home on West Seventh street yesterday, it being a Saint Patrick affair in every respect. The house was decorated with shamrocks and Happy Hooligans, and the place cards were of the shamrock design. The menu cards were clay pipes dressed as Irish biddies, and their aprons furnished the space for the list of courses. The luncheon was served as follows:

Murphy Bisque
Cork Wafers, Emeralds
Irish Pheasant, Paddy's Pay
Irish Lemons, Staff of Erin
Killarney Salad
Shillalahs
Hibernian Cream
Shamrocks, Colleen Sweets
Blarney Stones
Coffee Bawn

After luncheon Irish verses were given by the guests. Mrs. Parker Earle gave a poem on the origin of the celebration of the day. Mrs. C. E. Mason gave a toast to St. Patrick. The afternoon was spent in playing pranks and doing stunts, every guest contributing a part. The guests, every one of whom wore green in some form, were Mesdames Earle, Cobean, Hagerman, Poe, Bear, Allen Walker, Veal, Mason, McGaffey and Bedell.

Yesterday being the 55th anniversary of Mrs. M. Whiteman, at 201 Bland St., the friends and neighbors planned and executed a successful surprise. Cards and conversations were the pastime. Shamrocks were the favors. An elaborate lunch was served. Numerous presents of cut glass, etc., were received, and all wished Mrs. Whiteman many happy returns of the day. Those invited were Mesdames Thornton, Krebs, Aslidi, Thomas, Chas. Whiteman, Oliver Pearson, W. C. Burrus, C. W. Haynes, Henry Jacoby, I. Gronsky, Neiderkorn, McCallecher, Gregory S. Moore, Mrs. J. R. Alston and daughter Kate, Miss Carrie Whiteman, Mrs. Al Crawford, Mrs. Johnson.

A LABOR CONFERENCE

Washington, Mar. 18.—A conference of far-reaching importance to labor began here today. Participating are President Gompers and members of the executive council of the American Federation of Labor, together with the executive officers of the International Trades Unions of America, who met pursuant to a call issued by Gompers to consider the consequence of the recent injunction decision of the U. S. Supreme Court affecting labor organizations, with particular regard to the Danbury hat case, in which the court substantially held that labor organizations were to be considered trusts as much as organizations of capital. The object of the conference is to consider a proposed amendment to the Sherman anti-trust law which is being drafted with a view not of exempting labor organizations particularly, it is desired to so frame the proposed amendment as to meet the requirements of the supreme court's decision. Practically all of the one hundred and seventeen national and international unions in America are represented at today's meeting. The conference is held behind closed doors and will continue several days.

VAST IMPROVEMENT IN COPPER TRADE.

New York, Mar. 18.—The Times this morning says the demand for copper has so increased that copper producing companies have sold ahead to the extent of a hundred million pounds. This makes a vast improvement in the copper trade. Of these sales for future delivery it is said the United Metal Selling Co. has orders for thirty million, and other producers for twenty million pounds. Orders ranging from one to three million pounds are said to have been placed in fairly large numbers recently by domestic consumers. One of these orders for a large amount was held up by the suspension of the Knickerbocker Trust Company which was banker for the power plant construction company for which the copper had been ordered. This order will now be filled as the Trust Company is to resume.

ORCHARD WILL HANG

Caldwell, Idaho, Mar. 18.—Stating that he believed Harry Orchard in his testimony in the trials of Haywood and Pettibone for the murder of ex-Governor Steunenberg told the exact truth, attempting to conceal nothing, Judge Fremont Wood in the district court today recommended that the state board of pardons commute Orchard's sentence of death to imprisonment for life in the state penitentiary. The sentence of death was pronounced in accordance with the plea of guilty entered by Orchard. In sentencing Orchard and recommending commutation of his sentence, Judge Wood reviewed the case from the time of the killing to the present. The judge said he was compelled to sentence Orchard to death, for this is the only punishment for murder in the first degree under the Idaho statutes.

In regard to the part taken by Orchard in the Haywood and Pettibone trials, Judge Wood said, in part: "I am more than satisfied that the defendant now at the bar of this court has not only acted in good faith in making the disclosures he did, but that he also testified fully and fairly to the whole truth, withholding nothing which had not actually taken place. I am of the opinion that no living man could conceive the stories of crime told by the witness and maintain himself under the merciless fire of cross examination by leading attorneys of the country, unless upon the theory that he was testifying to facts and circumstances which had an actual existence within his own experience. Believing as I do that this defendant acted in good faith, and when called upon as a witness for the state, he told all and withheld nothing, I can more readily fulfill the duty that I consider the law imposes upon me in passing upon this question it is immaterial that the juries in the two cases declared they were not satisfied of the guilt of the defendants on trial. The statutes of the state impose a bar to conviction on the testimony of an accomplice alone, and in each case the court instructed the jury that a verdict of not guilty did not mean that the defendants were innocent, but rather that guilt had not been proven beyond a reasonable doubt.

"For these reasons it is apparent that the verdicts of the juries referred to are not necessarily at variance with the views expressed here. I am thoroughly satisfied that under the facts of this case the court has a plain duty, and that the authorities leave no alternative, that the defendant must be recommended to the clemency of the pardoning board.

"The recommendation of the court to the pardon board is that the sentence about to be imposed be commuted and the death penalty be remitted."

Another reason suggested for clemency was that Orchard had testified to many other crimes, and the court believed that sooner or later some of the participants in these crimes will yield to conscience and join Orchard in confirmation of the disclosures made.

Judge Wood then formally sentenced Orchard and fixed May 15 as the date of execution. Orchard thanked the court for kindly remarks in regard to him, and repeated that he had told the whole truth and that no promise of immunity had ever been made to him therefor. When he concluded tears were streaming from his eyes, and he all but broke down as he thanked the judge for his recommendation to the board of pardons.

THE "SYSTEM" AT WORK.

New Haven, (Conn.) Union.
The movement to eliminate Mr. Bryan from the Democratic nomination has been secretly planned for some time. It came into the limelight at the meeting of the Democratic national committee in Washington last month. The people engaged in it booted Mr. Bryan in 1896 and 1900, and wouldn't vote for him if he was nominated in 1908. Ninety per cent of the Democratic party is in favor of the nomination of Mr. Bryan at the Democratic convention in July. In our judgment he can poll from one-half million to one million votes more than any other Democrat. If Mr. Bryan cannot be elected, in our humble judgment, the Democratic party cannot elect anyone.

"The same tactics are being pursued as were pursued in the preliminary campaign in 1904. The 'system' or interests desire to nominate the candidates of both parties. They believe it to be cheaper to select the nominees rather than have the Democratic party nominate a man like Mr. Bryan whom they cannot control and who if nominated, the chances at present are very favorable to his election. What troubles them is not the defeat of Mr. Bryan, but the fear of his election.

The rank and file of the Democratic party will never again submit or surrender to the conservative or reactionary element who care nothing for principle and are in politics for what they can make out of it. The malcontents having come to the conclusion that they are unable to secure a little over one-third of the delegates to the Democratic national convention and that Mr. Bryan will be nominated in spite of everything they can do, are now sending out an appeal to the good nature and patriotism of Mr. Bryan to withdraw from the nomination in order to save the party.

The people engaged in this movement are not the friends of the Democratic party or Mr. Bryan. Mr. Bryan is not seeking the nomination, and if two-thirds of the delegates assembled in the national convention, vote for him, it is a duty incumbent on him to accept the nomination and make the fight. The loyal men of 1896 and 1900 demand this of him and the enemies of Mr. Bryan from within and from without, should have no influence whatever upon him in deciding upon what he considers to be the right, and when he has made up his mind in doing it regardless of consequences.

The schemers having been foiled in their attempts to force him out, are now endeavoring to coax him out. Mr. Bryan's duty is plain, and that is to abide by the decision of the representatives assembled in the national convention. There are but two things that will prevent his nomination: First, death; and second, his refusal to accept it. The nomination is a foregone conclusion, and the chances for election are better than they have ever been, and many of the Republican leaders are already conceding it.

Mr. Bryan can be trusted to do the right thing, and his enemies and his pretended friends will not be able to force him out or coax him out of what he considers his duty.
